Living Documentation Event

The only European conference on Behaviour-Driven Development and Living Documentation will return in 2025 even bigger, better and more fun!

10 April 2025

Last year we had over 10 diverse speakers and over 100 attendees physically present at our office in Eindhoven. See a recap here.

In 2025 we will be celebrating the first lustrum of this event and due to the enormous success of last year we're aiming to welcome 200 or even more attendees, which means we can no longer organise this event at our office and will be moving to another inspiring event venue.

We cannot do this without sponsors and would like to give you the opportunity to be a sponsor of the lustrum edition of this unique event: the only European conference on Behaviour-Driven Development and Living Documentation.

What can you expect?

One day of highly interactive workshops and/or presentations on the topics of living documentation, behaviour-driven development, domain driven design, agile and compliancy, event storming, specification by example, gherkin and much more. 200+ professionals from the Netherlands, Belgium and the rest of the world (last edition we had attendees from the United States, Denmark and even interest from Australia). This event is set up to inspire, inform, educate but also to be a place to find like-minded people and create a community of Living Documentation enthusiasts. The Living Documentation Event 2025 will be held on 10 April 2025.
